Dear Prof Tittonell,

Many thanks for the thought-provoking paper submitted to SOILD. You will see that both reviewers provided positive comments and also suggestions for improvement. You have already addressed these for Referee 1.

It seems a major challenge in soil science is getting reviewers to conduct promised reviews, so I gave up on Reviewer 2 and did the review myself. I apologise the delay that this has caused in the review process. Can you please consider my comments as well in the revision of the manuscript?

Best regards,

C1
